The upholstered Pep task chair marries refreshingly simple design with exceptional comfort and wouldn't look out of place in homes. The ergonomic, unitary seat and backrest shell made of molded plywood is fully padded, covered on all sides and comes with extra wadding on the inside. Combined with its stylish, die-cast-aluminum four-star base, the chair looks compact but still lightweight. The optional black polyamide armrests are a comfortable place, even for those on the heavier side, to rest their arms on. Optionally on glides or casters, with or without armrests, Pep is an equally good choice for customer support areas and meeting spaces, or dining tables and desks at home.

The contours of the seat shell, armrests and base frame coordinate with each other perfectly, making the chair easy to combine with a variety of table shapes. And what's more, with high-luster-polished or black-coated frame surfaces and the wide range of upholstery materials and colors, Pep is an ideal match for a whole range of interior design concepts.
